DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 25 is objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 25, line 5, "the user terminal" is indefinite because one cannot determine if the limitation refers to all user terminals or to a single terminal. It is suggested the terminology be changed to --the at least one user terminal--.

In lines 5-6, the terminology, "selected attendance right option(s)" is somewhat confusing and it is suggested the terminology be changed to --at least one selected attendance right option--.

In lines 7-8, it is not clear whether the limitation, "wherein said option valuation information is computed" refers back to the "computer-base method" or whether the limitation can be achieved in the mind of a user. It is suggested the terminology be changed to ---wherein said option valuation information is computed by the computer---. (for the purposes of this action, it is assumed that the computing is done by the computer)

Appropriate correction/clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 25, lines 7-8, the terminology, "user-input probabilities" lacks antecedent basis and further the terminology is unclear in that one cannot determine whether the "user" refers to the person operating the user terminal or to another person who may be inputting the information related to the attendance right options (specifically, "user" lacks proper antecedent basis).

In claim 25, line 8, "option-vesting contingencies" lacks antecedent basis.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 25 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
